Join us for an informative presentation and a collaborative discussion. This workshop will address the US labor movement's history and future building solidarity with struggles against apartheid, with a special focus on Palestine. Presenters will explore the following questions through education, discussion and skill sharing. Why is this a union issue? How does Israeli apartheid Palestine affect Palestinian workers? How can we respond to Palestinian unions' calls to Boycott, Divest from, and Sanction Israel? What can we learn from the recent history of labor's involvement in this struggle, including the ILWU action against the unloading of Israeli ships, and the academic workers of the University of California and the Connecticut AFL-CIO's voting to endorse BDS. What can we do in our local unions to build solidarity with Palestine?
